TO THE SOUTH OF US

Interest in the revolutionary spirit, as it is being displayed in South America by citizens of Argentina and Peru seems to be of two general types: Interest in the evolution of the governmental machinery of the two republics, and interest in the people and groups involved.

Of the two, the second is apt to engage a greater portion of attention.

Deposed presidents Augusto B. Leguia of Peru and Hipolito Yrigoyen of Argentina were dictators. In Latin-American countries a president depends upon a dictatorship for his political and often his physical life, since nothing ever has happened to demonstrate that Latin-Americans can govern themselves with any show of success. Consequently, a dictator-president knows quite well that he is atop a heap of political dynamite with a quick fuse of popular feeling. In Peru and Argentina the fuse burned down and caused revolutions. As years are counted, former President Yrigoyen and former President Leguia ruled their countries a long time; eight and 15 years, respectively. But every year, every move generated a spark that might have caused the inevitable explosion.

It is not to be assumed, of course, that all citizens of a country which overthrows its government support the cause. That was not true of the United States. It is not true of Peru and Argentina. It may not even be a majority of the citizens who favor it, in fact. It cannot be ascertained at present what proportion of the populations of Peru and Argentina are active revolutionaries, but it is known that the overthrow of the government in both cases was a reactionary movement, a reclamation of power by the capitalist class. Both deposed presidents professed to be champions of the middle classes and others whom they desired to assist in attaining a middleclass status. Of a certainty, the instigators of the revolution do not represent a clear majority, but since these out of agreement with them dare not speak it is impossible to say what proportion of the population they represent.

As far as interest in the machinery of South American government is concerned, the recent overthrows may be regarded as part of an evolutionary process whose continuity is assured by the Monroe Doctrine. People of more stable temperament than the Latin Americans have used the same methods with success; perhaps the Peruvians and the Argentinians will be able to get equally good results in the course of time. It must be admitted, however, that there recent revolutionary activities appear futile in themselves. They have merely overthrown a tried and successful government for an untried government which in each country appears likely to cause the same class oppression that South American countries have struggled to overcome for the last quarter of a century.

CLIMING VINES

Of vines, as of people who cling, there are many kinds. There is a money vine in spring when they stand on their own roots and may, if the gardener is quick, be trained to follow their own independent way, whether that means collapsing into tangled heaps of their own or sprawling desperately across the ground. Or they may be uprooted without destroying a whole garden. But if that spring moment be missed the gardener is lost. His vines will have twined themselves deep into the lives of all that grows about them, and he can not unsnarl their lines without tipping and tearing away the sturdy foliage of the stout plants that support them.

Yet there is an appealing quality in the plant, as sometimes in the person who leans upon a sturdy stone wall or clammers up a sturdy tree. Many a monotonous gray wall takes all its life and color from the mass of snowy clematis, the soft pastels of poison-ivy leaves, the decorous pale green of bittersweet foliage or the wild flame of its berries—parasites all, that could not lift themselves from the ground without help. Many an elm, graceful by itself, acquires its crowning glory from a lush Virginia creeper, which, creeping greenly up the trunk into the fan of foliage in midsummer, lights the tree with a splash of autumn crimson when its own leaves are dimly turning yellow and brown; and many an ungainly butternut tree, full of dead and broken branches, is transformed into magic patterns by a cloak of wild grapes, with leaves so variously decorative that they have since Greek days been the despair and delight of artists.

Independence is well enough, but we need the trailers, the leaners and the climbers, too. The hillside would look lonesome if there were nothing growing on them less than self-supporting trees with a poplar.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, September 10

Generally adverse planetary forces may be said to bear rule in the events and circumstances of this day. Disturbing and disintegrating forces seem to be operative, unsettling affairs and yielding frustration and futility. New projects are unfavorably aspected, and there may be an abrupt change or travel, but with the financial status under hazardous sway but little good fortune may be looked for. The tendency to strife, violence and litigation should be suppressed.

Those whose birthday it is are at the threshold of a year of disturbance and possibly tumultuous conditions, with little to be gained, although there may be sudden change or journey. But new undertakings and finances are critically aspected, and all affairs may be complicated by litigation disputes and rash and tempestuous conduct. Deliberation and self-control may turn the year to success.

A child born on this day may be talented, resourceful, bold and adventurous, but inclined to be roving and restless and also to take long chances and to gamble or squander its funds. It should be given training discipline in self-control and discretion.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—No spot so successfully turns back the years for me as Coney Island. It is the one amusement resort that transforms the common crumple into a Peter Pan. And this past summer Coney did not fail to live up to its chirping anthem: "Bigger and Better."

There are three distinct classes in this whirling world of make-believe. Those who visit it telling in the postscript of their lives. Others who go to Coney for a lark. And the great, fat and waddling majority who refer to it as "Coney."

The latter have the most fun. They live and play there from April 15 to the closing in September. Coney to them is a seaside resort where studied informality stamps the elect—the happy Mothers and children wear only bathing suits during the entire season.

To be "smart" at Coney wins an elegant outbursting "horse laugh." The reasoned Coney Islanders come nearest to the supreme joy of beach romping without its discomforts, that the world knows. The chief charm of Coney is that life is shocked of its moribund conventions.

Thousands who swarm the beach from sunup until sundown are housed in mere huts, furnished only with such bare necessities as a bed, table, chair and cookstove. The glittering parabola of dips of death, papier mache what-nots is as unknown as Broadway to the real New Yorker.

This summer I visited a former chauffeur who, with his wife and three children, occupied a three-room lean-to on the lower end of the island. His expenses for the first six weeks were less than $15 weekly. He hadn't the creature comforts, but everything else of the expensive spa.

He saved $203 for a three months outing and expected this sum to cover all expense. This is a side of the resort those who visit it merely to chase thrills, devour hot dogs and frozen custard, rarely see. Next season Coney's wax works are to include columnists—Migawd!

Bob Garland, dramatic critic of the Telegram post-cards from Gallopia, O.: "The boys around the drug store never heard of you—but they know all about you now."

I knew someone would eventually spill the beans.

Sidney Skolky, tells of the comedian dismissed by Martin Beck, vaudeville magnate. Trying vainly to see Beck and express his resentment, he finally hired a horse and cab, denied a coachman's uniform and waited for him. When Beck appeared, the comedian tugged at the reins shouting: "Beck, you—, Beck, you—!"

Wise cracking experts furnishing rags for comedians are "stoooges," similar to the gag men of Hollywood. Their prices vary but top for a fifty was $1,000 paid by Al Jolson. He heard it across a cafe table—pentaneous wheeze—and peeled off a "grand" for the amazed punster for sole rights.

Outstanding nifty tappers are Bugs Baer, Wilson Mizner, Grant Clarke, Arthur Caesar, Joe Frisco and Jack Benny. Some of their best lines were hurled in repartee which collected no royalties.

I thing Bugs Baer's best was when after entertaining a large group in a night gym joint he cried: "Waiter, by check and a fright wig!" It was Arthur Caesar who printed across his bank checks: "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again!"

A doddering grayhead is entitled to a poetical moment now and then. This morning I passed the graceful and arresting Harriet Horner, the danseuse, along 49th street, and Wordworth's lines have haunted me since.

"A dancing shape, an image gay,
To haunt, to startle and waylay!"

From a California civic magazine: "McIntyre sometimes strikes us as brilliant, other times as so so and now and then positively boring."

Data On Peritonitis

All the cavities of the body are lined with a delicate membrane. There is one membrane, called the peritoneum, which lines the abdominal and pelvic cavities. In these cavities are located the stomach, liver, spleen, bladder, kidneys, intestines, and in a female, the reproductive organs. Inflammation of the peritoneum is called "peritonitis."

This inflammation may be of a general character and involve a large area. This is a serious condition. Or the trouble may be confined to only a small portion of the membrane lining. In that event there is less pain tenderness and tenderness of the muscles.

The prominent symptoms of peritonitis are severe pains in the abdomen brought on at the slightest touch. The patient can get relief only by lying on his back or propped up with legs drawn up. This position relieves the pulling of the muscles of the sensitive abdomen. The breathing is shallow because of the tenderness. There is rapid pulse and a fever.

Keep Patient Quiet
There are many causes for this condition. A perforating wound of the abdominal wall is very likely to cause inflammation. Rupture of a pus-filled appendix or of the gall bladder is almost always followed by peritonitis. Certain female ailments are accompanied by it.

Ulcer of the stomach or intestines which results in perforation of the abdominal wall is a common cause. Very often, when there is a pus-forming infection in the stomach, bowels, gall bladder or womb, peritonitis may result.

The first intimation that such a condition is present is a sharp, cutting pain, apparently in the intestine. The victim may have nausea and vomiting. Usually there is great swelling of the abdomen from the gases that form in the intestines. Likewise, there is a drum-like rigidity of the abdominal muscles.

The disease comes suddenly and develops very rapidly. Usually in three or four days or a week it reaches its climax.

Should one of your household be stricken with symptoms such as these a physician should be called at once. In the meantime the patient should be propped up with the legs drawn up and the shoulders raised. Then keep the patient perfectly quiet until the doctor arrives.

ARGENTINA RIOT MARKS ENTRY OF NEW REGIME

Government Headed By Uriburu Inaugurated Amidst Fighting

ARRESTS EFFECTED TO HALT REVOLTS

Proclamation Issued By New Officials; Seven Killed, Reports Say

By WILLIAM FOLGER
(Copyright, 1930, by United Press)
BUENOS AIRES, ARGENTINA
Sept. 9.—The government issued orders today for stern action to prevent recurrence of street fighting lately after the inauguration of the revolutionary government headed by that broke out last night immediately Gen. Jose E. Uriburu.

The celebration of ceremonies installing the new government was turned into a "reign of terror" by the well-timed plot of a small group apparently in sympathy with the deposed President, Hipolito Irigoyen, and by confusion that caused forces supporting the new administration to believe erroneously for a few hours that a counter-revolution had been started.

The mistake, charged by the government to the Irigoyenist plotters, was discovered only after severe fighting and bloodshed had marked inauguration of the Uriburu administration.

Arrests Ordered
The government ordered the arrest of former President Irigoyen and other leaders of the fallen regime, including the former Vice President, Enrique Martinez, and all ministers of the Irigoyen cabinet. They were blamed for plotting to spread terror.

A proclamation issued when the capital-dazed and apprehensive—calmed down today, warned that any citizen found carrying arms would be court-martialed. A second proclamation said the government had discovered a large number of machine guns belonging to the government had fallen into the hands of private individuals. The persons were given 12 hours to surrender the guns or face summary court-martial.

For a time the confusion and fighting became severe, and causalities were considerable. Then the plans of the plotters were frustrated when thousands of citizens, who had joined in the inauguration celebration, rushed to arms to defend the new government leaders who had marched so confidently into the capital on Saturday.

Reports said seven persons had been killed and 50 others wounded before order was restored. The most serious clash apparently was that in the front of an army in the center of the city, where occupants of a building opened fire with a machine gun on passersby. The army force refused to surrender when troops arrived with machine guns and rifles. The building caught fire and some occupants were believed to have been burned to death.

The tragic confusion lasted for hours while thousands of citizens and members of the new government waited with arms ready for an attack which never materialized.

us how to restore the value of silver. W. J. Bryan tried it on a 16 to 1 basis and failed. Uncle Sam tried it with wheat, putting in nearly $100,000,000. and wheat dropped 25 cents. Supply and demand is an obstinate reality."

AN EXPERIMENT made in Cuba yesterday, may, 100 or 1,000 years hence, be far more important 10 times over than the great war and all the wars before it.

Georges Claude, a French scientist, with the indorsement of the French Academy of Science and the Cuban government, is undertaking by a costly process to develop the heat of surface and gulf stream waters in the tropics, recondensing the steam thus created, sending it to the colder depths of the ocean. A vacuum will be used to create steam at low temperature.

Man with his little coal mines, steam engines, hydraulic turbines and other sources of windmill on the rim of a drivewheel, is like a fly building a wing wheel.

The earth itself will be our dynamo in time, which will mean power unlimited, to last while the world lasts.

THE ARGENTINE revolution rolls on successfully. If there are any objectors, they say nothing. The new president is obeyed.

You will learn, without surprise, that Europe blames the revolution on the United States. In Rome, the Fascist newspaper Il Tevere says South America's trouble is imitating the United States, its constitution, and its centralizations of power. Also "the famous Monroe Doctrine" is a disturbing factor.

If it were not for that Doctrine, Japan might have half of South America today, and Germany the other half.

But we can afford to let that go, provided we do not let the Monroe Doctrine go.

REPUBLICANS IN MAINE WINNERS; WHITE SELECTED

Governor Tudor Named For Second Term As Few Visit Polls

PORTLAND, ME, Sept. 9.—Maine stood fast in the Republican column today after its "off-year" biennial election in which Representative Wallace H. White, Jr., who has served the second Maine congressional district for 11 years, was advanced to the seat in the United States senate now held by Senator Arthur R. Gould.

Governor William Tudor Gardner was named for a second term and three Republican incumbents in congress and Donald B. Partridge of Norway, who contested for White's seat, were elected.

White rolled up a majority of 30,000 over Frank H. Haskell, Portland, his Democratic opponent, carrying each of the 16 counties.

Gardner, who two years ago swamped Edward C. Moran, Rockland Democrat, with an 80,000 majority, was able to poll but 16,000 over Moran yesterday. It was the smallest majority for a Republican governor since 1918, when Carl E. Milliken squeaked ahead of Bertrand G. McIntyre with 5,000 votes.

The vote totaled 147,000, the smallest since 1920, when women were granted suffrage, and compared to a total of 213,000 two years ago.

In the congressional contests Representatives Carroll L. Beedy, Portland, John E. Nelsen, Augusta, and Donald F. Snow, Bangor, defeated Thomas F. Locke, Biddeford, Leo D. Lamond, Eastport, and Clinton C. Stevens, Bangor, respectively. Partridge in the second district, won from Albert Bellevue, Rumford.

NEGRO SHOT AS RESULT OF RIOT IN GEORGIA CITY

Body Of Rioter Found In Woods Near Darien; Partner Lynched

DARIEN, GA., Sept. 9.—"Rubber" Bryan, 24, sought as the second Negro who participated in a gun fight yesterday in which a police officer was slain and three others wounded, was shot and seriously wounded in a wood near here today. Deputy sheriffs who had been searching throughout the night for the Negro, returned to Darien this morning and announced they found Bryan lying dead with a shotgun charge in his back. Coroner Crumley went to the wood and his investigation showed the Negro was still alive. A few minutes after Crumley's arrival, the Negro regained consciousness.

He was brought to Darien and given medical attention.

Deputy Sheriff Malone told Coroner Crumley that he and his two companions early this morning approached a Negro house, and that Bryan ran out, fired two pistol shots at them and fled. Malone said he fired once at the fleeing Negro with his shotgun, and that the Negro dropped.

They said they found a pistol said to have been missed by the Darien bank several weeks ago after a robbery, near his side.

Robert L. Freeman, acting chief of Troup county police, was fatally shot and Deputy Sheriff J. H. Collins and John Fisher, wounded in pursuit of the Negroes.

Last night authorities visited the homes of both Grant and Bryan and reported the finding of a quantity of stolen goods in each.

WALKER-MORGAN

DAMASCUS, Sept. 9.—Miss Mabel Lorena Walker, of Damascus, and Ralph Dudley Morgan, of Albion, N. Y., were the principals in a beautifully appointed wedding at 4 p. m. Monday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Walker.

The ceremony was performed before an altar of palms, ferns and autumn flowers in the living room. Rev. A. L. Baker of Cleveland, pastor of the Windmere Methodist church there, officiated.

As Mrs. A. L. Baker, of Cleveland, played Mendelssohn's wedding march the bride party took its place at the altar. Junior and Garth Walker, nephews of the bride, were ribbon bearers, and formed the aisle through which the party passed.

The bride came in with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of ivory satin, fitting snugly about the hips with the skirt falling in soft folds to the floor. Her veil of embroidered tulle folded in cap fashion across her head and held at either side by clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Mary Cobb, of Damascus, maid of honor, was gowned in a creation of orchid chiffon with long full skirt and carried pink roses.

Other attendants were Mrs. Marion Boyce, of Ovid, N. Y., sister of the groom, and Mrs. R. M. Bayle, of Wilkinsburg, Pa., sister of the bride. They wore yellow and green chiffon dresses and carried bouquets of sunburst roses. Little Mary Bowman, of Columbiana, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Marion Boyce, of Ovid, N. Y., brother-in-law of the groom, was the best man. Fred Walker, of Jacksonville, Fla., and R. M. Bayle, of Wilkinsburg, Pa., brother and brother-in-law, respectively, of the bride, were the ushers.

After the service a four-course dinner was served. Members of the bridal party were seated at a table ornamented with tall white tapers and white roses.

Other guests were seated at small tables made attractive with sunburst roses.

Mrs. Morgan is a graduate of Damascus High school and Mt. Union college. She took post graduate work at Cornell university. For the last year she had been a dietitian at Clifton Springs sanatorium, Clifton Springs, N. Y. She is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority and Psi Kappa Omega, honorary sorority. BOATS REPULSE

ATTACK BY REDS

American Gunboats Aid In Causing Damage To Communists

HANKOW CHINA, Sept. 9.—Two foreign gunboats repulsed Communist attacks at nearby points on the Yangtze river yesterday inflicting heavy damage on their adversaries. Dispatches said neither of the foreign gunboats suffered casualties.

The warships involved were the American gunboat Tutuila and the British gunboat Ladybird. A roving Communist band fired upon the Tutuila with machine guns and trench mortars about 80 miles above Yenchow, Hunan province. The warship answered with three-inch rifles and machine guns. The bandits were dislodged and their mortars destroyed. Dispatches fail to state whether any Reds killed or wounded.

The Ladybird met an attack by the Communist raider Shast near the city of Shast, Hupeh province, with a heavy barrage from her six-inch guns. Quickly silencing the Red vessel's guns, the Ladybird fired upon the river banks, raking Communist strongholds outside the city.

MICHIGAN VOTES ON PARTY ISSUE

Independent Republican In Senate Opposed by Chase S. Sanborn

DETROIT, Sept. 9.—Whether Michigan Republicans will punish by their votes the "party irregularity" of Senator James Couzens, numbered among the Independents in the United States senate, is one of the questions to be decided by the state-wide primary today.

Chase S. Osborn, of Sault Ste. Marie former governor, has made his political campaign issue in seeking the senatorial nomination, the accusation that Senator Couzens is not a "regular" Republican.

Osborn has asked the voters to repudiate Couzens and nominate a candidate pledged to "party regularity." Osborn said the senator had "represented no one but himself."

Senator Couzens has conceded his "irregularity," has asserted he will continue to act independently of party leadership and has declared himself responsible to no one but the people of his state.

The wet and dry issue has received only passing mention. Although Senator Couzens has said he is not in sympathy with prohibition, he has promised to support laws for its enforcement as long as it is on his books.

Osborn is a lifelong prohibitionist.

THE DAY

In Sports

EXODUS GOLF, BASEBALL, FOOTBALL'S HERE NOW

The next few weeks will see the last of golf-miniature and others—and the King of summer sports, baseball, once known as the national pastime of American sport-lovers. These sports, popular as they are during the summer, will make their exodus quickly for they will be forced from the athletic spotlight by the advent of football, a game played at many times more schools than baseball and which attracts as many people during the season, despite the fact it is only played twice or three times a week, than baseball does during its term of popularity.

It's already getting too cold for miniature golf. The real golf bug still makes his habitual visits to the Salem Golf club and doesn't mind the cool breezes in the least. But when Saturday football rolls around the number of golfers at any course will be at the lowest point of the 1930 sport year.

Salem has already been talking football where in other Ohio cities fans await the first game. Here it is different. Salem High had a great gridiron machine last year and anticipated another. The down town coaching corps paid daily visits to Coach Floyd Stone's camp at Dunn Eden and will be regular attendants at Reilly stadium when the Stonemen start workouts there.

The matter of fighting is an appropriate subject in that favorite of that racket still insist that Young Jack Thompson was not given everything he had coming in his battle with Tommy Freeman at Cleveland last week. Apparently Thompson did get what fistic followers term "the raw." He easily had the edge in eight of the first nine rounds while Freeman didn't earn credit for winning a round until the tenth frame.

It was another case of the underdog staging a sensational rally in late rounds. Referee Patsy Haley was influenced by that tardy display of talent, which by the way, was made only after the colored lad injured his hands.

And give Thompson credit for a great display of sportsman-ship. Never a heel did he raise. Instead, he congratulated Freeman, wished him luck and hoped "you give me a return battle."

Football officials in Ohio are scheduled to gather in annual pre-season discussions at Columbus soon. The importance of these is great and every care should be taken by Salem High to secure officials for games that have thorough knowledge of the gridiron competition.

Just everything.

Red Ballentine doesn't like publicity—Charles Griner is to attend New York Military academy this fall—Jimmy Scullion is enrolled at Bethany—he'll be there with Mal Rush—Joe Kelley may attend the officials convention at Columbus—Friday Reasback is making similar plans—give the latter credit for still being among those present after the late moshball season—Reilly stadium looks great—Dunn Eden did not beat Lake Placid as badly as was expected—Salem fans are sure that the Red and Black will trim Canton McKinley.

Cardinals To Oppose Giants While Chicago Clashes With Dodgers

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—This is to be "do or don't day" in the National league, the day on which the most theatrical race in baseball history is to approach its conclusion or begin all over again, with everybody involved in a stalemate, which is piping rock for dead heat.

At Ebbets field, the first-place Cubs will begin a three-game series with the third-place Dodgers. At the Polo grounds, the second place Cardinals will be coupled with the fourth-place Giants in a four game series. Ten Miles apart, as the crow flies provided he is a sincere, earnest crow with his heart in his work, are the battle fronts but a micron, either would space the four contenders at something less than 10 inches and, by the time they are finished with each other, the margin may be such that they will decide to split the difference and call it nothing.

This could happen if the Dodgers won three ways from the Cubs while the Giants and Cardinals were breaking down. In such a case, the returns on Friday night would have the Cubs showing a case, the returns on Friday night would have the Cubs showing a half-game in front of the Dodgers, with the Cards one game back and the Giants 2½ games out of the lead. This almost absurd state of affairs has been brought about by the fact that almost everybody has been too busy watching everybody to have time to watch the Cardinals—and the latter have been worth anybody's scrutiny.

Win 22 Out of 26

Their record shows 22 out of the last 26, while the Dodgers, in first place when the Cardinals streak started, have been glibly winning 17 out of the last 28, including yesterday's double victory over the Phillies.

As for the Cubs and Giants, they are doing it the hard way. They are trying to see how far they can go without pitching.

The Cubs, it seems, are trying to make it even harder than that. According to the stories that preceded them into town, like so many vultures riding ahead of a caravan, the boys are just a happy family, all for all and one for one.

One of these stories, deals with Root and Blake, who are said to have hired a taxicab from the ball park in order that they might fight in peace. Another alleges that Joe McCarthy is indignant at and with Mr. Hornsby, who seems to have endeared himself to the front office. A third declared that two of the regular outfielders are speaking but not to each other.

Cubs 2½ Games Ahead

I don't profess to know whether these rumors have been exaggerated or minimized but, right or wrong and in spite of everything, the Cubs are 2½ games in front of the Cardinals this morning and, with each having less than 20 to play, the difference is not to be laughed lightly away with a throaty contra. The proof, in other words, rests less with the Cubs than with the others. They have to

THE SALEM HARDWARE CO.

Jinx Number Will Be Worn By Bruder

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Number 13 will adorn the back of a Northwestern university football player this season for the first time in years—and "Hard Luck" Hank Bruder will wear it.

Bruder, Captain of the 1930 Wildcat team, and ranked by Coach Dick Hanley as the "best halfback I've ever seen," has had enough tough luck to discourage almost anyone.

Two years ago he was injured early in the season and played only a few minutes. He recovered in time to prepare for the 1929 campaign, but suffered a fractured leg in the first game of the Big Ten season, in which Northwestern defeated Wisconsin largely because of Hank's great play.

He has asked Hanley to get him a No. 13 jersey to help him beat his jinx 13.

County Grid Activities

Palestine Meets Alliance
No County Title Probable

EAST PALESTINE—East Palestine high school will formally open its 1930 football season on Saturday, Sept. 20, when its gridiron meets Alliance High at Alliance.

The team, which has just returned from a week's training camp in charge of Coach Perry Van Hynning, is in excellent shape and will be put through a two week's practice of scrimmages and study of plays, prior to their first game.

Perry Van Hynning, coach of the squad, who led the team through a successful season last year, losing only two games in their entire schedule, comes here from Wittenburg college. He was a star of the team of that school for four years and was named all-Ohio end, for two years. He also played four years of high school football at Kent, his home town.

The aggregation this year will have no letter men in the lineup. The men who will probably all have

County Grid Activities

Palestine Meets Alliance

No County Title Probable

positions the coming season, are Smith, Wertz, Quiller, Early, R. Hartford, S. Hartford, Swaggar, Reed and Jacquet.

The schedule, recently completed by William Ward, J., faculty manager and track coach of the school, is as follows:

- Sept. 20—Alliance at Alliance.
- Sept. 27—Sebring at Sebring.
- Oct. 4—Zelinspie at East Palestine.
- Oct. 11—Girard at Girard.
- Oct. 18—Lisbon at East Palestine.
- Oct. 25—Leetonia at Leetonia.
- Nov. 1—Memorial (Youngstown) at East Palestine.
- Nov. 8—Columbiana at Columbiana.
- Nov. 15—East Liverpool at East Liverpool.
- Nov. 27—Rayen (Youngstown) at Youngstown.

This year will probably be the last in which the county competition is in such a muddled state. Salem and Liverpool are on good terms again and probably will meet in 1931 while Palestine will also, in all probability, be a Red and Black opponent next year. To have those teams here for a night game would be a great boost to finances of Salem High and also the visiting aggregations.

Very likely this season will see Salem High without a strong basis for a claim to county championship honors due to the arrangement of the Red and Black's schedule. Salem does not meet its closest rivals for titular honors, East Palestine and East Liverpool.

Liverpool and Palestine, on the other hand, clash this season and probably the team that wins that game will lay claim to the title. That is, of course, if the victor has not bowed in defeat to another county team which Salem High defeats.

Palestine plays four county teams, Liverpool, Lisbon, Leetonia and Columbiana. Wellsville, slated as one of the strong teams this year, is not on the Bulldogs' schedule.

Salem billed three county opponents, Wellsville, Lisbon and Leetonia. Liverpool's schedule has not been completed but Wellsville and Palestine will probably be its only league opponents.

MONTGOMERY, N. Y.—Having travelled 1,500,000 miles by locomotive, George Halstein, New York Central engineer, has retired on pension at 70.

Godfrey Predicts Strong Ohio Team

TOLEDO, Sept. 9.—At an Ohio State Alumni luncheon meeting here yesterday Ernest Godfrey, freshman coach said Ohio State university would have a better football team this fall than ever.

He said there were men for every position on this year's team as good or better than those who held the positions last year.

WITTENBURG STARTS

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 9.—Wittenburg college football candidates are going through daily practice with the smallest and lightest squad since 1925. Their first game is against Georgetown college, Sept. 25.

CINCI BUYS CARROLL

CINCINNATI, Sept. 9.—President Sidney Weil of the Cincinnati Reds yesterday announced that Owen Carroll, former Detroit and New York American leaguer, has been purchased from the Toledo club of the American Association.

STATES SELECT CANDIDATES IN TODAY'S VOTING

Primaries Scheduled For Eight Districts; Maine Picks Republicans

MARYLAND VOTING LIGHT YESTERDAY

Three States To Choose Party Selections For Senatorial Races

In eight states, scattered from coast to coast, voters today chose party candidates for national and local office.

Today's primaries are to decide who will represent Louisiana and South Carolina in the senate. Their Democratic nominations are equal to election. Senate candidates are to be chosen also in Colorado, Michigan and New Hampshire. In Arizona and Vermont selections for governor hold the principal interest while in the state of Washington contests for house seat head the list.

Tomorrow Georgia Democrats will hold a primary and next week Massachusetts, New York and Wisconsin will stage the last pre-election contests.

Maine's balloting yesterday returned Republican victories all down the line with Representative Wallace H. White, Jr., elected senator and William T. Gardner, re-elected governor.

Maryland Votes Light

Absence of contests within the parties in Maryland made yesterday's primary there largely a formality, marked by the lightest vote in years.

South Carolina's contest is a runoff primary to decide between the leading candidates in the August 26 polling. Cole L. Blease seeks to hold his senate seat and James P. Byrnes, former representative, is making his second try to oust him. Ira C. Blackwood and Olin D. Johnson, both of Spartanburg, are seeking the governorship.

Louisiana's primary marks the end of a heated campaign in which Governor Huey P. Long sought the senate seat held for many years by Joseph E. Ransdell. Long spent last night under heavy guard.

In Colorado five men are seeking senatorial nominations. William V. Hodges, former treasurer of the Republican national committee and George H. Shaw, former state chairman of the party are seeking the Republican nomination. Edward P. Costigan, James A. Marsh and Morrison Shafroth are Democratic candidates.

Senator James Couzens is seeking renomination in Michigan, opposed by Chase S. Osborn, former governor. Three Republicans contest the governorship.

New Hampshire's Republican Senator Keyes is unopposed within the party. Two Democrats seek the right to oppose him.

In Arizona George W. P. Hunt campaigned against three opponents for the Democratic nomination for the governorship, an office he held almost continuously from admission of his state to the union twenty years ago, until 1928. John C. Phillips, Republican incumbent who defeated him then is unopposed within his party.

Three Republicans seek the Vermont governorship and in Washington three of the five representatives have primary opposition.

AGAIN KONJOLA GIVES PROOF OF ITS WORTH

Happy Lady Finds First And Only Relief From Ailments In This Master Medicine

MISS ELLA PERKINS

"Stomach and kidney trouble had put me in a very weakened condition," said Miss Ella Perkins, 466 Dayton street, Cincinnati. "My heart palpitated wildly after each meal because of the gas forming in my stomach. I suffered from dizzy spells. Rheumatism also tortured me and both my ankles were swollen and my joints and muscles were stiff and sore. I lost in strength, and came down to 100 pounds."

"After my first bottle of Konjola I felt better. Within a few weeks stomach miseries, heart palpitations, and those terrible pains of rheumatism vanished. It is hard to believe that one medicine could do what Konjola did for me. I am indeed grateful."

Though Konjola works quickly six to eight bottles are recommended as a fair trial. Many people are benefited within a few weeks, but it is better to take this medicine for a longer period to obtain the best results.

Konjola is sold in Salem, Ohio at The J. H. Lease Drug Co. Three stores and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

MOVIES

"HELL HARBOR"

At The Grand

Lupe Velez at the Grand theater where she is appearing with Jean Hersholt and John Holland in "Hell Harbor," the story of what it is like for a young girl to match her wits with a mercenary father and an avaricious trader.

The story brings one back to those glamorous days when pirates really had cutlasses and black eyes. It winds its way thrillingly through a series of murders and scrapes and concludes as all stories must conclude—with the vivacious Lupe fast in the arms of her man and the moon shining down upon them. But there is really substance to the tale. It recounts the hardships of a father to his daughter and of his attempt to marry her to his own monetary advantage, and of her refusal to bow to his selfish will.

Acted to the hilt by the cast which includes, besides Miss Velez, Jean Hersholt and John Holland, also Gibson Gowland, Harry Allen, Al St. John, Paul Burns and George Book Asta, "Hell Harbor" also has the distinction of having been made completely outside studio walls, most of the scenes having been shot in a romantic setting outside Tampa, Fla. Potpourri of scenes aboard a merchantman at night have been etched with artistic understanding.

"SON OF THE GODS"

At The State

From dreamy, mystic Chinatown to the revelry of Monte Carlo. From Buddha's shrine to the perfumed cautions of a modern girl's boudoir. From a Chinese funeral ceremonial to the roulette tables of the world-famous Casino.

Such contrasting scenes appear in "Son of the Gods," the new First National and Vitaphone feature production starring Richard Barthelmess at the State theater.

Polo games, college larks, Confucian prayers, ancient Chinese philosophy, love on the banks of the Mediterranean, safety, color, somber tones, ancient, parables, and modern American youth, laughter and tragedy—these fill the pages of Rex Beach's novel and have been reproduced in "Son of the Gods," a special that has been produced on a lavish scale and greeted as one of the greatest Barthelmess characterizations in his brilliant career.

Constance Bennett plays the feminine lead, while important roles are handled by Anders Randolf, Claude King, Mildred Van Dorn, Allyn Warren, Frank Albertson, Dorothy Matthews, a score of other important players and several hundred extras including many Chinese. The production has been made entirely in dialogue under the direction of Frank Lloyd.

Weather Outlook

COLUMBUS, Sept. 9.—Weather outlook for the 24 hour period beginning at 8 a. m. today.

An extensive high pressure area of moderate intensity now dominates the country from the northern plains states eastward to the Atlantic coast; elsewhere the air pressure is relatively low. This pressure distribution is resulting in mostly fair and rather cool weather. The pressure areas will probably continue to drift eastward during the next 36 hours, resulting in slightly warmer weather with increasing cloudiness in this vicinity tonight, probably followed by showers late tonight or Wednesday. Warmer Wednesday.
